

Pineal region teratoma with high serum and CSF alpha-fetoprotein levels

蔣永孝

Cheng CM;Chiang YH;Nieh S;;

摘要

Abstract

We report a patient with an immature teratoma of the pineal region with high levels of alpha-fetoprotein (AFP) in serum and cerebrospinal fluid. This is very rare and to the best of our knowledge, the second case reported in the literature.